Artistically Speaking

Note from Pine Shores President...

"To practice art, no matter how well or how badly, is a way to make your soul grow. So do it."

Kurt Vonnegut

I think art is a lot like exercise: We know how good it is for us, but so often we find every excuse known to humankind not to do it. It's too cold, or it's too hot, or the wind is out of the Northeast . . . or my studio is a mess, or I need to do the laundry, or the cat likes to sleep on my drawing table.

I've been known to waste an entire afternoon doing nothing but making excuses.

Yet I've noticed through the years that those of you who, if at all possible, make it a RULE to carve out a part of your day for art not only get so much better, and better, and better, and do so somewhat quickly; but you also, and of course, this is the important part, you're usually very happy and confident people. Vonnegut would approve. I simply envy!
