

Note from Pine Shores President...

Hello, My Friends,

I'm so happy to report renovations are moving right along on our Stafford building, but they're far from finished.

Workmen started on the ground floor first and have replaced all 1st floor windows. A soft gray siding was going up Wednesday when I stopped by for a look from a distance.

They will put up a dark red shingle-like siding on the upper level as well as on the gable on the front of the building. Top floor windows are ready to install. They also have worked on a couple of the worst places in our floor.

They will then paint or replace trim.

Linda Saladino is in contact with Mike, our Public Works foreman, to ask if Stafford will paint the interior. If not, we may be asking for volunteers to paint it ourselves. It's the perfect time, since there is no artwork on the walls.

Bottom line, I have no realistic idea when we can move back into the building. Until you hear differently from me, continue to go to Tuckerton for meetings, classes, etc. Donna will send out blasts as things change. I know it's difficult not knowing, but when we see our (sort of) sparkly new building and don't fear for our lives when we walk across our floor, we'll know it was worth the aggravation.

Hang in there with us,

Lonny Hall
